

MEANING AND NATURE OF TEACHING

Present by – Dr .Sanjivani Thakur

HOD Department of Education

EDUCATION

Teaching is not telling , but training Mann

Meaning of teaching

- Wider Meaning of Teaching
- In its wider sense .teaching is a process by which an individual is taught his family , school ,friendship , recreation ,and vocation to adapt himself to his environment .”

Pathak and Tyagi

Narrow meaning of Teaching

In its Narrower sense , teaching is a process by which an individual is taught a thing for a certain according to a certain plain .

TEACHING – A TRI PROCESS

Teacher

Student

Subject

Adobe Stock | #552196693

Teaching –A Tri –Polar Process

“There are three focal points in education – the teacher ,the child ,and the subject , Teaching is a relationship which is established between these three .”

W . M Ryburn

Teaching is a tri –polar process , which eatablishes a relationship, between the child and the subject .there is no process of teaching without all there e being present .”

Pathk and tyagi^{//////////}

Nature of Teaching

- Teaching is Establishing Relationship
- 1. Knowledge of Child Nature
- 2. Knowledge of Himself
- 3. Knowledge of Subject and Method
- 4. Knowledge of Effect
- 5. Knowledge of Philosophy of life
- 6. Knowledge of Presentation of subject

“Teaching must set forth the material of Knowledge In such a form that its true inherent relations may be grasped .”

J . welton

Teaching is Causing to Learn

Teaching means causing to learn
Nothing has been given until it has been taken taught until it has been learnt .

Teaching is Helping in Adjustment to Environment

All Education proceed by the participation of the individual in the social consciousness of the race .

Teaching is the means by Which the society trains its children as early as possible in the act of adjusting themselves to the selected environment in which they have to live .

Teaching is Guidance

Teaching may very well be defined as the direction as the direction or guidance of learning

." 1

Thomas M. Risk

Teaching is Motivating

“Education has been defined as encouragement .It is causing children to learn . In order to cause them to learn , we have to rouse their enthusiasms and interests in the right way .”

W .M Ryburn

Teaching is Training of Emotion

“Our teaching will be very one sided and distorted unless we take into the account the necessity for helping the child to develop a stable emotional life . “

Teaching is providing Opportunity for Activity

“Every child has in him the inherited tendency to be active . A major part of the work of teaching is to provide opportunities for the exercise of this desire for activity

.”

Teaching is Organization of Learning

Teaching may best be defined as the organization of learning ."
James I"

Teaching is a Means of Preparation

Teaching is a means of preparation, and in helping the boy to live fully at any particular stage it is also helping him to prepare for the future. Thus teaching will always have this preparational side to it.

THANK YOU!